PARTNERS ON CAPITOL HILL

- Department of Public Safety
 The Department of Public Safety (DPS), which includes the Capitol Police Division and the Georgia State Patrol, provides security to the GBA facilities on Capitol Hill. DPS has primary responsibility during an emergency or crisis and may order the evacuation of a building when there is evidence that there is a grave risk to life or property within a particular building. DPS has established a patrol post (Post 50) on Capitol Hill that is in the building located behind the Central Presbyterian Church.
- State Fire Marshal (Office of Insurance and Safety Fire Commissioner)
 All buildings owned, operated, or occupied by the state are subject to fire safety inspections by the State Fire Marshal's Office. State inspectors are given the authority to determine whether the life safety of the occupants and the general public is in danger from fire, explosion, or related hazards, and to enforce requirements set forth by law (OCGA 25-2-22). The Fire Marshal's Office is charged with determining if the level of safety of each building is acceptable through a combination of prevention, protection, egress, and accessibility, which are established as a state minimum fire safety standard by the Safety Fire Commissioner.

BUILDINGS

- Building Access Cards
 All visitors to Capitol Hill buildings, including lobbyists, are required to show identification to Capitol Police for entry. The Ethics Commission's lobbyist identification badge is considered proper identification for entry into the Capitol and the Coverdell Legislative Office Building.

Eurest manages the historic Georgia Railroad Freight Depot as well as rooms in the Twin Towers. The Georgia Railroad Freight Depot was completed in April of 1869 and is one of the oldest buildings in downtown Atlanta. The building served as the main freight depot for the Georgia Railroad and was restored by the Georgia Building Authority in 1981 for public use. Most of the original brickwork and freight bays remain in place to give the facility a unique setting for special occasions. The Freight Room can accommodate 800 guests for a seated event and 1300 for a stand-up reception. The Freight Room is an ideal location for large award ceremonies, wedding receptions, lunch and dinner events, trade shows, or charity events with sufficient room for a DJ, band or other entertainment. You are only limited by your own imagination. The Blue Room is a quaint catering and meeting facility within the Freight Depot used for mid-size gatherings. The Blue Room's hardwood floors and two fireplaces give it an antique look that creates a beautiful setting. The Blue Room seats 150 guests and can house 200 people for a standing reception. The Blue Room is often used for breakfasts, luncheons, dinners, charity events, meetings and receptions.

The Georgia Capitol Museum is a public educational institution housed in the State Capitol building under the administration of the Board of Regents. The museum seeks to preserve and interpret the history of the State of Georgia. To carry out this purpose, the museum collects, maintains, and exhibits significant artifacts, including historic flags and works of art, within the State Capitol. The State Capitol is open to the public Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., and is closed on weekends and State holidays. Visit the museum website at www.libs.uga.edu/capitolmuseum for additional information. Tours of the State Capitol cupola are prohibited.

- James "Sloppy" Floyd Veterans Memorial Building

The walk from the Capitol to the James "Sloppy" Floyd Veterans Memorial Building features monuments that honor our military. Starting at the breezeway leading to the building is a number of war memorials dedicated to the military including the American Legion "Flame of Freedom" and the Blue Star Memorial. Inside the Floyd Building you will find a mural honoring our citizen soldiers, along with the Georgia Medal of Honor wall, flags of our services and numerous service photos on the plaza level. Take home a piece of Georgia history by visiting the Capitol Hill Gift Shop located on the balcony level of the Floyd Building.

- Flags

Commemorative flags of the United States and State of Georgia are available to the public through GBA. You may purchase a flag of remembrance for veterans, family, friends, current members of the armed services, or to honor someone for a special accomplishment, service or retirement. Each one of these memorial flags has flown at the State Capitol and comes with a certificate of authenticity including the date on which it was flown.

Commemorative flags are available for a charge of $25. Please refer to the GBA website under "General Public" and "Commemorative Flags" for more information or contact Wanda Isabelle at wanda.isabelle@gba.ga.gov or 404-656-3252.
